“Form Follows Function”

The phrase “form follows function” is a principle associated with 20th century modernist architecture. The principle asserts that the shape of a building or an object should relate primarily to its intended function or purpose. Instead of constructing something “for art’s sake,” the best design is one that enables the responsible party to fulfill his or her stated mission.

You may remember that one of our church’s Vision 2020 recommendations on “Structures” sounded this note most clearly. Under the category of “making ministry possible,” we adopted the strategic objective of “providing facilities that, while warm, welcoming, and accessible to members and guests, are functional in terms of serving the church’s ministry objectives” (Strategic Objective #4). In other words, when we contemplated our “God-sized dreams,” function was a strong component.

In the spring, our church received a report from a “Space and Facilities Needs Assessment Committee,” which has now been handed over to a “Building Committee.” That committee, chaired by Chuck Bowers, has contracted with a local architectural firm, Turner Batson, who will work with us to design a project that addresses the five concerns identified by the aforementioned Space and Facilities Committee. Those concerns are: Children’s Ministry Space, Youth Ministry Space, Multi-Purpose Space (with an emphasis on Contemporary Worship), Storage Needs, and Parking.

Our architect, Dave Reese, has already been speaking with the Building Committee and the Ministerial Staff to hear more about our thinking. He will meet next with the Deacons this month at their July meeting. Then, he will host at least two congregational conversations in order to hear from the church before reporting his initial findings either at the end of the summer or early fall. When we have clarity on the scope and cost of the project (and church approval), we'll then begin to make plans for a Capital Campaign that will help us make this part of our church's dream a reality.

It's been a joy to see how so many of the Vision 2020 recommendations are being implemented and the positive impact their implantation is having on our church's overall ministry. I fully expect the same to be true with this part of the plan. As we all weigh in on the "form" this project will involve, then the "function" it serves will enhance our impact for Christ on our community and the world. So, be looking for your opportunity to join the conversation. The project will not be complete without your input and investment.

Summer Opportunities

Visitation

Do you ever think about being homebound and not able to attend church? Being homebound is often not a choice but the consequences of health issues that keep you close to home. You are needed to visit, call, and/or write our homebound members. Under the Grand Staircase is a cart containing bags with a Mature Magazine, snacks, and grooming items to pick up and deliver to one of our homebound members. You can also add other goodies if you'd like to pick up some things to include in the bags. Sign your name beside the member's name or write the name of someone that you know is currently homebound. Report to Pat Ferguson an update on the person that you visit. Your visit will make a difference in their life and your life as well!

Ice Cream Money for Grantswood's Children

Save Your Spare Change!

Summer is passing quickly and before you know it, school will be starting. The children at Grantswood Community School need your change to help them have ice cream at lunchtime. Ice cream is a favorite treat for most children and adults! Save your change each day and in August bring your collection to Pat Ferguson. Pat will count the change for Debbie Hix to deposit. Then the money will be given to Grantswood for children to enjoy ice cream when school begins.
